

ANZMRC/Quatuor Coronati Conference 2026

General:

It is proposed to hold a Masonic Conference at Masonic Hall, Singapore from Friday 30 October 2026 to Sunday 1 November 2026.

The objective is twofold.

Firstly, to present high quality masonic papers in Asia and secondly to bring together the research lodges in Asia possibly under the banner of ANZMRC.

The conference will be organised on behalf of The Australia/New Zealand Masonic Research Council (ANZMRC) and Lodge Quatuor Coronati (QCC) from the United Kingdom.

The participants are expected from throughout Asia, Australia, United Kingdom and USA.

In the history of Freemasonry in Asia there has never been a major Masonic Seminar in the region.

Individual research lodges have given seminars but nothing on a regional basis.

To this end it is felt that lodges in the region should share masonic research.

ANZMRC has for many years carried out biennial seminars covering research lodges in Australia and New Zealand.

Research Lodges:

In Asia there are several research lodges.

Unfortunately, the coordination between these lodges reaches the scale of almost zero.

It is intended at this meeting will address this issue.
